Another year has rolled around and the Armijo Union High School Seniors are again publishing their yearbook, the La Mezcla. The annual was completed under the capable supervision of Virginia Downer, Editor, and Andy Moiseff, Assistant Editor. The Manager, Gloria Leicke, and Assistant Manager, Ray De Gracia, worked conscientiously to complete this publication. Outstanding work was done by George Ambrose on Classes and Sally Escano on Organizations. Boys' Sports was assembled by Charles Lum, and Russell White, and Girls' Sports was supervised by Lyla Browning and Donna Dahlman. As Feature Editors, Mae Huck and Dorothy Hansen did a wonderful job; the Class Will was drawn up by Amparo Cruz and Eva Flores. Looking into the future, Howard Thomsen and Darlene Hopkins wrote the Horoscope, and also looking into the future were Mary McDiarmid and Theda Jones, who wrote a Senior Class Prophecy which was out of this world. The Division pages were illustrated by our talented Senior artists, Eva Lum and Lillie Foon, and the complete calendar of the year's activities was cleverly arranged by Helen Lee and Manuella Rellis. Individual Senior's activities were listed by Marge Fuson and Hoover Chan and the Photography was very well managed by Thelma Risso and Norman Bourke. All copy work was done by the typists who were the entire La Mezcla Staff.

On behalf of the entire staff of the La Mezcla, we wish to thank Miss Dorothy Jacobus, and Howard E. Stone, Editorial Advisors, and Miss Audrey Levick, Art Advisor.

Navy Students Graduate, Wed

BERKELEY, Feb. 23.—Sixty Naval students at the University of California were graduated today as ensigns or lieutenants, junior grade, eight immediately attached marine licenses to their commissions.

In a ceremony at Callaghan Hall, Capt. William White, U.S.N., commanding officer of the Navy training program at the university, awarded commissions to graduating V-12, R.O.T.C., and medical students, the last group receiving appointments as lieutenants, junior grade.

This marked the first time that members of the V-12 and medical units have been commissioned at Callaghan Hall.

Invocation was pronounced by Chaplain Harold B. Lawson of the 12th Naval District. Graduates were presented for commissioning by Comdr. H. L. Wolniewski, U.S.N.R., executive officer.

Eight ensigns were appropriately congratulated after the ceremony by their fiancées or brides. Regulations prohibit naval students marrying before graduation, but because members of this class have only nine days in which to report for sea duty at Newport, R. I., Captain White played a nautical Dan Cupid and authorized three pre-arranged weddings.

The married couples are: Ens. and Mrs. Jacques Aubry, Sunnyvale; Ens. and Mrs. Daniel A. Shuelle, Pasadena; and Ens. and Mrs. Jack Cockrell, Huntington Beach.

The five other ensigns and their fiancées, who will be married within the next four days, are: Ernest L. Dildane and Miss Genevieve Kelum, both of Oakland; Stanley W. Potts, Los Angeles, and Miss Violet Grant, Long Beach; Robert L. Smith and Bethia Wilcox, both of San Francisco; Joseph London, Denver, Colo., and Sylvia Manbey Berkeley; and Frank R. Roieski, Omaha, Neb., and Molly Belle, Chesapeake, Piedmont.

Graduates Bid Farewell

BERKELEY, Feb. 23.—"Your university is judged by you—you are its jewels, real or pale," was the farewell admonition to 300 graduates, voiced today by Dr. Monroe E. Deutsch, vice-president and provost of the University of California.

"We do not ask for greatness but for worthy lives," Dr. Deutsch said, departing students with a message of hope and encouragement.

There was a sense of the tragedy of the time, Dr. Deutsch said, simple "family" marked the end of a program necessitated by the smallest graduation ceremony. Berkeley graduates received no formal march in honor of the university commencement need of acceptance over.

TRAINING... Marine Corps... former women's representative on the student executive committee and Malvern Dorinson of Oakland representing medical school graduates.

Sending them forth "to meet destiny," graduates were urged by Dr. Deutsch "that you be the debtors. The creditor asks for no promise; she relies upon your honor to meet obligations that will persist through your lives," he said.

Shadow BOXING

By EDDIE MULLER

Added poundage proves beneficial especially in the case of a fighter who has often been forced to reduce in order to make a stipulated weight. This seems to hold true in the case of Tony Olvera, popular Portuguese bantam, who fights Joey Puig tomorrow night in Coliseum Bowl.

When he weighs above the 120 mark, Olvera is much stronger and punches harder than when he gets below 118, which he did for his fifteen-rounders here with Castillo.

Against Puig, we figure Tony, up around 121, will be able to shake on his foe when he hits the target. Of course, Joey is capable of doing the same. He isn't too fast, but he can sock with both hands.

Last year, in the same ring, Olvera whipped Rocky, a local ring, and Jorge Robles, who went to Minneapolis to fight Jack.

This is Puig's opening night after winning the Golden Gloves in the same ring. The appearance of Tony Rodriguez will bolster the support.

Olson, unbeaten in fifteen fights, faces Valley's De in the six-round semifinal. The appearance of Olson as a youngster to show his in a long time.

Rodriguez, a product, should be in for Billy Castillo (the E) he defeated "Baby" C. Y. weeks ago in his first go-around.

Brown, handled by a goes in against L. and Willie looked impressive kayoes in his first fight after graduating from the Golden Gloves.

We're not in accord with who any betting odds set, barometer in forecasting the boxing show.

A rambling rant argued with us that if one fighter is 4 to 1 over his foe, few people will show up at the arena.

We'll skip Joe Louis' fight in which he has never been less than 5 to 1 and always packed 'em in. Take a gander at the local situation. It proves our point.

Larry Turner was 4 to 1 over Frankie Augustin. The gate hit $14,000. Billy Fitzpatrick was the same price over Pacific Peters. The match drew $10,000.

Warmerdam to Quit Competition

NEW YORK, March 12.—(AP)—Dan Feris, secretary-treasurer of the National AAU, said today he had received a letter from Cornelius Warmerdam, only man to clear 15 feet in the pole vault, that he intended to give up amateur competition for a career as coach.

"If the Olympics were this year or next I might try for a place on the United States team," Feris said, "but I don't think I had better get into the life's work."

Warmerdam, 36, is a former six weeks, no. 1 in the world, former rancher.

The Armijo Varsity had a very poor season winning two games out of ten. A man-to-man defense was used on the four practice games which did not work out so well. Shifting to a zone defense the A's won their first two league games and lost their last four games. The players who made up the team were Athey, DeGracia, Lum, Scholl, Vest, Wink, Fockler, Dodini, Wheatley, Moretti, Heredia, Bourke, and McGraw. The starting five were Athey, DeGracia, Lum, Scholl, and Vest.

TRACK

There was a large turnout for track during the season of 1946 for the A's, B's, and C's respectively. Due to the fact that the track season has not begun we are unable to get out the league standing. Last year's B's and C's track team had a very successful season by winning the County Meet and Davis and the South Section at Armijo.

During the Spring of 1946 the Armijo track and field men had an active program. First, at St. Helena Invitational our B team won the meet over 10 competing schools and brought home the trophy. Our A team won second place in this meet. Also bringing home a second place trophy.

Next in a Triangular Meet between Armijo, Rio Vista, and Brentwood our A's and C's took second place while our defending champion B team again took first place. . . . If our B team takes the County Meet this spring, it would be the third successive annual win.

Future Meets.

Till The End Of Time

July 1, 1956

We, E. Zop and I. D. Clair, have been asked to give an account of the so-called Class of '46, their whereabouts and pastimes. Any similiarity between their actions and normal doing are purely incidental and may be accredited to their previous education in A. U. H. S.

The first thing that enters our minds is having seen Margaret Fuson and her latest heart-throb, Frank Hendricks, huddled in a corner of Andrew Moiseff's famous Russian Night Club. The main attraction of the Night Club is Thelma "Gertie" Risso and her well-known bubble dance. The most disappointed bachelor in the world was Howard Thomsen when he finally succeeded in breaking the bubble with an automatic water pistol only to find that she wore a wine barrel for safety.

Two gay divorcees, Frances Miller and Shur-lee Mauldin, have recently returned from a trip to Europe. They claim that they went there to search for radium, but decided to return to America to be gold diggers.

Darlene Hopkins has been grieving the death of her late husband, Lawrence Scholl, who was killed as he fell off a milking stool while milking "Lulabelle," one of George Ambrose's prize dairy cows. It is suspected that he was murdered as Ray De Gracia was seen not long afterward out in the pasture shooting the bull.

Professor Robert Wilson, a faculty member of Armijo Union Institute for Oncoming Criminals and Maniacs, just selected his eleventh wife, who is none other than Gladyce Bickell. It is rumored that Evangeline Flores had her eyes on him but lost his affections when it was revealed that she had a cedar chest.

Manuella Rellis has finally perfected a paper dress. She states that all she lives for now is to go out on a big tear. Hubba!! Hubba!!

Those two students who everyone thought would succeed, Esther Finn and Dorothy Hansen, now run a shoe shine stand on the corner of Main and California Streets in Suisun. Their business is booming since Dorothy insists on giving everyone a free pedicure.

Sally Rand's nite club in El Cerrito is now under the management of Sally Escano. The main attraction is Donna "Neon Girl" Dahlman, torch singer. Her chorus consists of Yuriko Seiji, Arlene Svava, Lillie Foon, and Betty Gannon. Since help is so hard to find, Albert Lowe, assistant manager, consented to give out with his special "Dance of the Seven Veils" arrangement.

The hi-lite of the week that has the town in a dither is Mayme Mauldin's sensational trip to the moon. Mayme was more than surprised to find living in one of the many new ultra-modern plastic houses a couple of her old classmates, Mae Huck and John Bemis with their small family of eleven. Willie Foon and Helen Lee run a super-duper Chinese Laundry there with 17-day service. When they aren't laundrying, they spend their time with their friends, Charlie Lum and George Eng, who run a chop suey house on Jupiter, with Eva Lum as the head Sarong Girl.

In Canada we find Lyla Browning working at Sorenson's Slippery Saw Mills. Jerry says Lyla has great ability in handling a saw. On the side she holds the log-rolling championship of the Bare-Foot Pact.

Gloria Leicke has really changed since we knew her. Now she is a Nun at Father Richard Jones' Convent. She is very content though because the gardener Jim Best who has just started to work there seems quite interested in her.

As we look further into our magnetic-hydro telescopic urn (crystal ball to you) Theda Jones and Mary McDiarmid appear to be quite busy tending bar at the Mankas Corners Palace.

Yesterday the Circus came to town and we found Russell White and Frank Tornay raised to the rank of professional lion trainers. They told us that others participating in the show were Chris Paoli Summers, featured as the fat woman; Burneice Hagar Cameron, as the bearded lady; Hoover Chan sword-swallower; and Joe Inn snake charmer. They also gave out the information that Ralph Osada, Akira Hirota, and Hideyo Takamota, trapeze artists, had a horrible accident in which Ralph sustained a skinned knee. Remember boys, a stitch in time saves nine.

Senior Class History

It seems hardly possible that just four years ago, we the class of 1946, entered the portals of dear old Armijo with a fixed purpose of making our four years here a success. Upon looking back how frightened and how green we were! While we were Freshmen, we looked upon the Seniors with wonder; they were at the top of the mountain—their goal almost reached. Little did we realize how soon we would be taking their places.

During our Freshman year, we elected the following officers: Russell White, president; Douglas Tomasini, vice-president; Mae Huck, secretary-treasurer. With these officers we glided smoothly through our Freshman year, and before we knew it we found ourselves Sophmores.

As our second year in high school opened, our class was a little large although the war was calling many of the boys away. During this year we had more responsibilities thrust upon our shoulders; but as we looked forward picturing the two years ahead of us, we could almost visualize ourselves marching across the stage with our hands extended eager to grasp that purple and gold sheepskin. With our class officers Neal Goudswaard, president; Thomas Coffey, vice-president; Helen Medeiros, secretary-treasurer, we managed to survive our Sophomore year. Remember our Sophomore Hop? It was one of the best ever given by a Sophomore Class.

At last we were upper classmen. For our class officers we elected Henry Serrano, president; T. J. Roberson, vice-president; Gloria Leicke, secretary-treasurer. During this year, we gave our first formal dance—the Junior Prom. It was a huge success—something most of us will never forget because it was the first and the last high school formal dance in which many of the Junior boys would participate before answering the call of our country. You see, there were three boys in our class, Henry Serrano, Thomas Coffey, and Bert Maxwell, who had graduated, and others who had quit school to join the various branches of the service. Our Junior year ended, and before long we were entering our final year at Armijo.

When our Senior year began, we saw many new faces in our midst—our class numbered approximately sixty. Some of us were sad to think that these were to be our last days spent at Armijo, but others seemed relieved that they had at last reached their goal. For the last well-spent year at Armijo, we elected the following class officers: Ray DeGracia, president; George Scally, vice-president; Richard Jones, secretary-treasurer. Even though we spent this last year in hard conscientious study, we have had some very good times. We regret that this is our last year in Armijo, but we can see opportunities waiting for us in a larger world.

During our four years here, we have made many friends from whom we regret to part. We appreciate the cooperation which we received during our four years; and to the classes that follow, we wish the best of luck in your high school journey.
